ARABS MASSACRE 22 JEWS IN NIGHT ATTACK ON SAFA

Scores More Wounded as British Rush Reinforcements to Ancient City Attacked by Moslems.

JORDAN VALLEY IS THREATENED

Advance of Desert Tribes
To Join Anti-Jewish Rioting Is Feared by Government.

Cairo, August 31.—(Saturday).—
Reports to the Jewish Telegraphic agency from Jerusalem today said 22 Jews were killed and scores wounded in a massacre perpetrated by Moslem Arabs Thursday night and Friday morning on the Jewish settlement at Safa. Jewish settlements in the Jordan valley and in south Sharon were said to face grave danger of attack.

REINFORCEMENTS RUSHED TO ATTACKED CITY.

Jerusalem, August 30.—(United News).—Military authorities commanded motor cars and other means of rapid transportation in Haifa tonight to rush reinforcements to the city of Safa, where 22 Jews have been killed and scores wounded in the latest clash between Moslems and Jews.

The situation increased in gravity as looting ransacked homes and an outnumbered force of Jews prepared to withstand further attacks by fierce Bedouin tribesmen.

Beside the troops which were ordered into the city, food, ammunition and medical supplies were hurried to the scene of the fighting.

British aviators and troops concentrated their efforts on ending rioting and shooting and turning back the Bedouin tribesmen who continue to advance into Palestine from the region of the Syrian frontier.

Tribes Advance.
The dangers of the Moslem tribes advancing to aid rioting Arabs in Palestine appeared to be the most serious problem of the steadily increasing military force here. Fighting between Jews and Arabs continued, however, in isolated sections
and there were more reports of casualties in smaller settlements.

Communications with Haifa and Samakh were disturbed again,
but it was learned that troops were sent out from Haifa to the surrounding colonies.

It was reported that 14 American students from the Real Arts school at Haifa, together with 15 of the most prominent of the steadily increasing military force here. Fighting between Jews and Arabs continued, however, in isolated sections
and there were more reports of
casualties in smaller settlements.

DEMONSTRATIONS BREAK OUT IN DAMASCUS.

Cairo, August 30.—(United News).— Serious anti-Jewish demonstrations broke out again in Damascus tonight,
despite vigorous police resistance.
Many were injured when authorities tried to disperse the demonstrations.

Tense excitement prevails both in Damascus and Beirut, reports said.

PAJAMA WEARER, NABBED IN STREET, FREED BY COURT

Sioux Falls, S. D., August 30.—
Charges of indecency and disorderly conduct filed against Ralph Duncan, of Bradenton, Fla., when he was arrested wearing pajamas on the street here, were dismissed in municipal court today. However, the "pajama war" seemed likely to break out on a new front when an unidentified person was circulated that Duncan's attorney would file suit charging false arrest.

Duncan was arrested in pursuance of an edict by Mayor George W.
Burnside against wearing night clothes in public, but the charges were later dropped by the mayor.

MRS. EVANGELINE LINDBERGH

LINDY'S MOTHER HAS CLOSE CALL

Pilot Takes Nose Dive To Save Hitting Plane in Which Mrs. Lindbergh
Was Riding.

Cleveland, August 30.—(AP).—Harold Goss, a Stout Air Line pilot, risked his life today to prevent a head-on collision of two airplanes, and tonight was a hero of the national air races here.

Because of Goss' quick action, Mrs.
Evangeline Lindbergh was saved from a smash-up.

Arriving at the air race field from Detroit, Mrs. Lindbergh was in the plane when she was in sudden danger. Both planes were near the ground.

Mrs. Lindbergh took the only way out—nose-dived to the ground. Her plane turned over, but neither the pilot nor William Goss, another Stout line flyer, was injured.

A moment later, Mrs. Lindbergh was landed safely, and she took off immediately with her famous son, Charles Lindbergh.

Next to Mrs. Lindbergh's, the most thrilling event of today's air race program was the stunting of Charles Goss, a Stout Air Line pilot, in a three-motored Ford monoplane.

Thomas G. Reid, of Downey, Cal., broke the world's solo endurance flight record in a three-motored Ford monoplane, powered with a Wright Whirlwind J5 motor. He flew on in hope of staying up 50 hours or until his 610 gallon of gasoline was exhausted.
The former record of 36:59:36 hours
was set by Lieutenant Herbert J.
Faher, of the U. S. army last May 29 at Fort Angles.

Four of the national air race pilots were resting tonight at Cincinnati, having completed today the first leg of the program, going 114.8 miles per hour in a 50-mile event. They left Cleveland at 2:24 p. m., flew to Toledo, then Dayton, then Cincinnati. They will complete their race tomorrow at Cleveland, by way of Marietta,
Ohio.

Clarance Chamberlin, of New York, took the first closed-course race on the program, going 114.8 miles per hour in a 50-mile event. They left Cleveland at 2:24 p. m., flew to Toledo, then Dayton, then Cincinnati. They will complete their race tomorrow at Cleveland, by way of Marietta,
Ohio.

Aviators continued to search out forces of Bedouins reported as advancing from the frontier—presumably some of the men who were believed to have taken advantage of the pre-scent situation to go against European authorities in the east. Troops have inflicted considerable casualties on attacking Arabs.

LADY HEATH LIVES WITH FRACTURED SKULL.

Cleveland, August 30.—(AP).—The same courage that took Lady Mary Heath through many unusually dangerous airplane flights in Africa kept the famous Irish aviatrix alive here tonight, despite her fractured skull and many other injuries.

Critically injured when her plane fell through a factory roof here yesterday, Lady Heath did not recover consciousness until nearly 20 hours later.

STOWAWAY FOUND ABOARD ONE-MAN TRANS SEA SLOOP

San Lucas, Spain, August 30.—
(United News).—The Porto Rican seaman, Franceschi Caballero, arrived at Bonanza Beach at mouth of Gaudal river tonight after a trip from America in the sloop Mary.

There was a stowaway on board,
a youth who hid himself on the sloop before it left New York. The boy's name is Roberto Rey.

Caballero's splendid achievement in crossing the Atlantic ocean in his sloop in 40 days drew praise from seamen here. The Porto Rican has been 84 days on his voyage, having sailed northward to New York before starting across the Atlantic.

He plans to rest at Bonanza before continuing to Seville.

Tanker and Coast Guard Vessel Act Quickly But Were Hampered in Rescue Work by Darkness.

San Francisco, August 30.—(AP).— Seventy persons, passengers and members of the crew of the coastwise steamer San Juan, were missing today and were believed to have drowned when the vessel collided with the Standard Oil tanker S. C. T. Dodd and sank in a heavy fog off Pigeon Point, south of here, at midnight last night.

Forty passengers and members of the San Juan's crew were rescued.
The tanker stood by and saved 29 persons, while the freighter Munami rescued 11 persons and transferred them to the coast guard cutter Shawnee.

The San Juan, a vessel 47 years old, sank within five minutes after the two vessels came together with terrific impact, a huge hole being stove in the San Juan's port side.

Rapidly filling with water, the San Juan plunged downward, carrying to their deaths the majority of the passengers and crew.

FORMER ATLANTAN GIVEN WAR CROSS

Lieutenant Melton H.
Snyder Recommended
for Legion of Honor for Bravery in Battle.

Washington, August 30.—(Special).—The war department officials today informed Senator Walter F.
George, of Georgia, that the distinguished service cross, one of the highest American military medals, has been awarded Lieutenant Melton H.
Snyder, 157th field artillery brigade, formerly of Atlanta, but recently reassigned to San Antonio, Texas. The Georgia officer also has been recommended for the legion of honor, chevalier, by French officials for compulsory and outstanding bravery during the World War.

While on duty with the 157th field artillery brigade headquarters Snyder displayed extraordinary heroism in action near Somme, France, November 5, 1918. When the front line infantry units of the 80th division were held up by overwhelming German artillery and machine gun fire, Lieutenant Snyder "with fearless disregard for personal safety, and with another officer, pushed out several hundred yards beyond the most advanced infantry positions and snipers, and on a coordinate map located the position of enemy artillery and machine gun nests, returning with the information to our lines through heavy hostile fire and furnishing same to the advanced artillery of the 157th field artillery brigade, in time to destroy or neutralize the enemy's fire and permit an advance of infantry units of the 80th division."

Major Donald M. Reere, F. A., now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., accompanied Lieutenant Snyder, on his expedition, and also has been awarded the D. S. C. by the war department.

Lieutenant Snyder lived in Atlanta for a number of years following the war and was active in local veterans' organizations. He served several years on the executive board of the Atlanta post No. 1, American Legion, and during 1928 was head of the "Forty & Eight," another veterans' group.

He was employed here in an executive capacity with Palmer, Inc., and left here last spring to take a similar post with a San Antonio firm.

Speedy Aid Given Survivors of Crash at Sea

GOVERNOR SIGNS FINANCE MEASURE

Hardman Issues Statement Declaring Sections Involving Salary Increases Ineffective.

The last of the acts of the 1929
general assembly was disposed of Friday when Governor Hardman approved the general appropriations bill carrying allowances of more than $25, 000,000 for maintaining the state government and public institutions for the years 1930 and 1931.

In approving the bill, Governor Hardman issued a statement in which he declared three sections of the bill ineffective. These would have provided for salary increases for the secretary of state, the comptroller general and the state treasurer during the remainder of 1929. The chief executive explained that the bill raising the compensation of these officers was defeated in the assembly, but that legislators overlooked striking the salary provisions for 1929 from the bill.

The governor's signature means approval of the bill except for the sections noted, which become ineffective.

Gas Tax Ruling.
A last minute legal question involving the six-cent gasoline tax arose at the capital Friday, but was promptly settled by action of the governor and Attorney-General George M. Napier.

It was called to the attention of capitol authorities that retailers of gasoline could stock up their tanks on Saturday night, paying four cents tax as under the present law, and sell the fuel Sunday to motorists with the six-cent tax levy. In a letter to the attorney-general Governor Hardman asked for a ruling in order to straighten out the question before the problem arises.

Mr. Napier's reply indicated that the six-cent tax would be collected for the state on all gasoline sold after midnight Saturday, when the new law goes into effect, regardless of when it was purchased by the retailer.

Napier's Opinion.
The attorney-general's ruling in part said:
"If some dealers stock up on the amount of gasoline in their stations, the difference between the tax of four cents, required by the state up to the 31st day of August, and the two cents additional required after September 1, will need to be adjusted between the wholesaler and the retailer. The state is entitled to collect and receive six cents tax on and after September 1."

The governor left for a week-end vacation at his summer mountain home late Friday after issuing a notice that the capitol would be closed
all day Monday, September 2, Labor Day. Having disposed of all legislative matters, the chief executive is expected to devote his attention during the next week to several pending clemency cases of importance.

Associated Press Photographs.

Seventy persons are believed to have lost their lives when the steamer San Juan, bound from San Francisco for Los Angeles was rammed early Friday morning off the California coast by the tanker S. C. T. Dodd in a fog so dense officers of one ship could not see the lights on the other. The tanker picked up 34 survivors and carried them to San Francisco. The upper photograph shows injured passengers and members of the crew being taken off the Dodd as she reached port. Below is a photograph of the San Juan, now resting on the ocean's bottom.

Bobby Jones Scores 67 To Set Course Record

GALLERY POP-EYED AS ATLANTAN BLAZES AWAY

BY ALAN J. GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.
Del Monte, Cal., August 30.—Wielding his famous putter with almost a miraculous skill even for his celebrated implement, Bobby Jones handed a knockout blow to the supposedly impregnable Pebble Beach links by scoring a record-breaking 67 late today before a record-breaking gallery of more than 1,000 spectators.

In an atmosphere of excitement
more fitting for actual championship play than for a mere practice round, three days in advance of the amateur title tournament Jones gave California the biggest golfing thrill it has had so far by slashing five strokes from par for a mere practice round, cutting three strokes from his own record made two days ago.

The champion was off to a careless start, taking two shots in a bunker on the second hole and three putts on the third, but thereafter his game was as perfect as it usually is, in practice or competition. Over a stretch of nine straight holes from the fifth to the thirteenth the great golfer shot seven "birdies" and required only 25 strokes altogether as "Calamity Jane" sank 'em at distances up to 40 feet.

Jones was playing in an international foursome, paired with Harrison
"Jimmy" Johnston, of St. Paul, against the Britishers, Cyril J. H.
Tolley and Eustace F. Storey, but the largest gallery of the week seemed to forget completely that there were three others on the course. When Bobby sank his last putt on the eighteenth the cheer that went up was almost as enthusiastic as if he had just been crowned champion again. To judge from the reaction of spectators, the entire affair of Pebble Beach is a one-man show. Jones' performance not only overshadowed the work of his playing companions but also everything else for the day, including a sparkling 71, one under par by Phillips Finlay, of Redlands, Cal., former Harvard star. Finlay had five birdies and an eagle three on the "champion sixth," a 502-yard layout to make up for his mistakes.

Storey's 75 was the best the British could produce, Tolley being wild and carding an approximate 79. Johnston also was erratic and took a 77, but Jones almost single-handed accomplished the defeat of the Englishmen in this match by a score of five and four. Bobby after his poor start made Pebble Beach's terrors look anything but formidable. Except for an occasional maddie nibble shot that strayed off the line there was not a flaw in the champion's play. Whatever mistakes he made in the direction of his shots to the green he more than atoned for by sensational putting.

He rammed home a 30-footer on the ninth, 12 footers on the tenth and eleventh, then a curling 40-foot putt on the thirteenth as he scored five 3's in a row. He was in a trap with his second shot, just off the edge of the 555-yard fourteenth green, but exploded out beautifully and sank
a ten-footer, for his seventh birdie.
On the long finishing hole, 540 yards, curving around the ocean's edge all the way, Jones was within ten yards of the green with his second shot, deliberately cutting the hazardous corner to get nearly home. He had an easy seven-foot putt for a birdie and a 66, but missed it.

KELLOGG ANTI-WAR PACT SEEN AS AID IN ENDING UNREST

Solution to Tangle Believed to Have Come
From Conferences
Starting in Berlin.

BLAME IS PLACED ON ROAD DIRECTOR

Russia Will Insist That Old Chairman Give Way to New Man To Be Named in Future.

Moscow, August 30.—(AP).—The soviet government tonight accepted proposals of China for conclusion of a joint declaration for settlement of all questions arising out of the bitter dispute over control of the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria.

The foreign commissariat expressed willingness to abandon the Russian demand for reinstatement of the same Russian general manager of the railroad as a preliminary to discussions.
It offered to seek approval of the soviet government for appointment of a new manager if China would replace the old chairman of the railroad directorate, whom the soviet holds directly responsible for the present trouble.

The acceptance came just when reports of execution yesterday by Chinese of four soviet citizens seemed to indicate that drastic measures of retaliation would be taken by Russia.

Back to 1924 Agreement.
Russia proposed that all pending questions be settled in conformity with the agreement of 1924.
Soviet diplomatic circles tonight declared that this action in the face of continued provocative acts on the part of the Chinese was another evidence of the loyal adherence by Russia to the principles of the Kellogg pact.

Rumors that the Chinese and soviet governments were attempting to come to an agreement in their dispute over the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria had been current for a week.
It was reported that they were begun by the representatives of the two governments in Berlin. The fact that the German diplomatic corps has been looking out for Russian interests in China since the break lent support to this phase of the rumor but both Russian and Chinese sources made repeated denials.

The Chinese legation in Berlin announced today receipt of a message from Nanking authorizing it to deny that it had been notified that Russia was ready to discuss settlement on condition that a soviet citizen be appointed general manager of the railroad. The treaty of 1924 provided for joint operation of the road but the Chinese recently expelled all soviet employees on the ground that they had usurped their railroad offices to further propaganda.

Ten Directors on Board.
The agreement of 1924 provided for the operation of the Chinese Eastern railway by a board of ten directors.

ATLANTA IS SUED FOR DAMAGE DONE TO STOCK BY SEEP

Damages in the amount of $4,788.57 for alleged injury to stocks of the J. M. High Company from water which entered the store at Hunter and Whitehall through holes in the retaining wall put up in the viaduct construction are sought in a petition filed Friday in the city court of Atlanta.

The plaintiff charges that the city, in changing the water pipe level during the viaduct construction, neglected to fill holes made in the retaining wall, and that rainwater came through, collected in a basin under the sidewalk, and penetrated the store wall. Underwood, Haas and Gambrell filed the petition.

Raids On Exclusive Apartments Yield Lot of "Red" Liquor

Raids on two exclusive Pentecost apartments during the past few days resulted in the seizure of a quantity of so-called "bonded whisky" and the arrest of four young men, two of whom were bound over to the federal grand jury following preliminary hearing, before United States Commissioner Griffith Friday afternoon.

John Keese was placed under $500 bond and H. T. Christman under $100 bond, while J. L. Stearns and H. D. Warner were released by the commissioner.

Acting on a tip, federal officials searched an apartment at 1410 Peachtree street and discovered 31 quarts of "red liquor" in bottles generously decorated with fancy labels. A quantity of genuine corn also was found.

A raid on another apartment led to the arrest of the quartet and the seizure of more whisky. It was claimed that Keese had the first apartment under lease, but all four denied knowledge of the large lot of whisky.

THIRTEENTH WARD PRIMARY IS SOUGHT TO NAME OFFICERS

Officials of civic leagues in the newly created thirteenth ward moved Friday to obtain a primary for selection of officials to fill the two councilmanic positions and the one aldermanic post from the ward when they addressed communications to J. P. Wall, chairman of the city democratic committee, requesting the committee to set a date. Announcement was made by Lawrence James, prominent resident of the ward.

ADVENTISTS HOLD SABBATH SERVICES IN CAMP SATURDAY

One hour before sunset yesterday the curtains at the book tent, and the grocery tent were lowered. There will be no secular business transactions at the Seventh Day Adventists camp ground at the corner of Whiteford and Boulevard, until sunset tonight.

The Sabbath school will convene this morning from 9:15 to 10:45, in charge of W. H. Westermeyer, Savannah. The Junior campers will have their Sabbath school in their respective pavilions, in charge of Mrs. L. D. Randall, and the Primaries will have theirs in their own tent, in charge of Mrs. W. H. Westermeyer.

Doctor Oliver Montgomery, of Washington, D. C., will preach at 11 o'clock. Bishop W. H. Heckman will speak at 3 o'clock. The day's program will close with a lecture by Dr. Montgomery at 7:45.

The services will close Sunday night with a lecture on "Does Religious Legislation Make Better Christians," by Dr. Montgomery.

WOMAN CHARGES PLOT TO FORCE HER FROM VICINITY

Protection of Fulton superior court against an alleged conspiracy to force her to leave the neighborhood where she now resides was invoked Friday by Mrs. L. E. Cowan, who secured a temporary restraining order from Judge John D. Humphries.

Mrs. Cowan asked for a permanent injunction to restrain the defendants from persecuting, prosecuting, harassing, annoying or slandering her, and for damages for alleged injury. She named the following neighbors as defendants: W. A. Brown, of 772 Central avenue, S. W.; Mrs. Jo Price, of 780 Central avenue, S. W.; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carithers, of 764 Central avenue, S. W.; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Pettway, of 763 Central avenue, S. W.; L. A. Swinney, of 774 Pryor street, S. W.; and E. D. Meek, of 702 Pryor street, S. W.

The plaintiff charged that she was prosecuted in police court by the defendants on a charge of operating a rooming house without a license, and that the real purpose of the prosecution was not to compel her to procure a license but was to harass, annoy, injure and damage her. The petition was filed by Attorney Eldon O. Haldane.

DEKALB SCHOOL PUPILS OFFERED FREE VACCINATION

P. O. HEADS RETURN AFTER CONFERENCE ON ATLANTA SITE

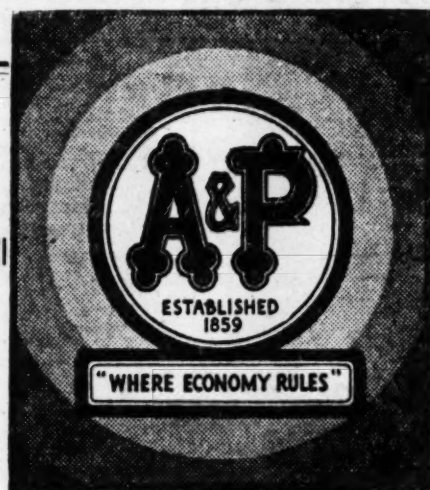

Postmaster E. K. Large and Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge, returned to Atlanta Friday from a trip to Washington, where they had been called for conferences relative to the location of Atlanta's new federal building.

Mr. Large reported that nothing had been decided in regard to a possible site and that the entire question was "up in the air" for the time being. Reorganization of the selecting committee in Washington was given as one of the principal reasons for the delay, many of the inspectors who made preliminary reports having been supplanted in recent weeks.

OFFICERS TEST 'LUNG,' SUB SAFETY DEVICE

Twenty-Six Men Rise to Safety by New Invention.

New London, Conn., August 30.—(P)—Twenty-six officers and blue-jackets came out of the after-hatch of the submerged submarine S-4 this morning and shot to safety through the waters of the Thames river with the use of the navy's new invention, the "lung," in the first instruction class working under actual conditions at the submarine base.

Lieutenant C. E. Mousen, inventor of the lung, and one or two others previously had used the apparatus with success, first at Key West, Fla., and then at the submarine base. A class had practiced with the lung at the swimming pool of the Y. M. C. A. but today marked the first series of escapes from a submerged submarine of an entire class of officers and sailors under actual conditions.

The rebuilt S-4, which sank off Provincetown, Mass., last year, with a loss of an entire crew, was submerged at its pier at the submarine base with the class on board for the operation.

The men wore bathing suits. A buoy was placed near the after end of the submarine to mark the approximate area where they would be likely to appear on the surface.

Communication was established with the boat by means of a battery list phone, a new apparatus, by which a person, standing on the pier, talked clearly with all compartments of the submerged submarine during the operations.

WOMAN INJURED WHEN HIT BY CAR IN CHARLESTON

Charleston, S. C., August 30.—(P)—Mrs. Kate West, 1014 Washington street, Knoxville, Tenn., was injured seriously here today when struck by an automobile as she was crossing a street. She remained conscious but was unable to speak. Her skull was fractured and her physician reports her condition extremely serious.

A meeting will be held probably on Monday or Tuesday of this week to determine the means of selecting a representative committee. After it is named this group will be placed immediately in charge of the drive for funds, Mr. Isaacson said.

In announcing that the drive would be launched without delay the Zionist head explained that immediate action is deemed necessary because, although the actual attacks have virtually ceased, refugees are pouring into Jerusalem and the Jordan country from the hill towns and farms laid waste by the marauding Moslems. The refugees, he added, are causing a food crisis in Jerusalem and aid from the States and from Europe is being solicited now.

At the memorial meeting scheduled for 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Jewish Women's Club, on Washington street, civic and official leaders of the city and state will join in extending their sympathy to the afflicted and in discussing relief measures.

Rabbi Tobias Goffen will open the program with prayer. Governor L. G. Hardman, as official representative of Georgia, will be heard next. The state executive will be followed by Mayor I. N. Razdale, representing the city, and Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, chosen as representative of Atlanta's civic leaders. Julian Boehm, Joel Dorfman and Cantor Lipitz will represent their people on the program and will express the sympathy of Atlanta Jews for the suffering of Palestine Jews.

A move to obtain the release of Ponton Jacob and his wife, Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, on their own recognizance will be instituted in Fulton superior court today by J. O. Ewing and James L. Barbour, attorneys who volunteered to defend them. Jacobs and his wife are charged with involuntary manslaughter as the result of the death of their infant daughter, Daisy.

Attorney Ewing Friday night said that he would file a petition today in superior court asking for release of the couple on the grounds that there is insufficient evidence to hold them. Bond for Jacobs and his wife was set at $500 each following return of an indictment by the grand jury. The couple claim that they did all that they could for the child, and that it died of whooping cough. The indictment charges the defendants with withholding treatment, care and nourishment from the child.

COUNTRIES, CITIES OF STATE WARNED
ON NEW GAS TAX

A warning to all countries and cities purchasing gasoline at tax-free wholesale prices and selling the fuel, that they will become subject to the new six-cent gasoline tax law effective at midnight Saturday night was issued Friday by William A. Wright, state comptroller-general.

In a letter addressed to some 150 local government organizations which have been dealing in gasoline, the comptroller-general pointed out the sections of the new law which make it apply to them as distributors. They were warned to make record of the amount of gasoline in tanks Saturday night so that accurate returns may be made. A bond in some reputable surety company is also required of all dealers.

The comptroller-general's letter explains that all gasoline taxes are due on the twentieth of each month following that for which the returns are made.

ZIONISTS PLANNING RELIEF FUND DRIVE

Campaign Will Be Mapped Out at Meeting Next Week.

A relief fund campaign for victims of the Jewish-Moslem warfare in Palestine will be launched in Atlanta early next week under direction of a general committee composed of representatives from all the city's synagogues, Jewish lodges, clubs and societies, it was announced Friday by Louis Isaacson, chairman of the Atlanta Zionist district.

The Zionist district already has passed resolutions asking the United States and British governments to protect American citizens in the troubled areas and has arranged a memorial meeting in protest against the Arabian outrages against Jewish settlers in Palestine.

A meeting will be held probably on Monday or Tuesday of this week to determine the means of selecting a representative committee. After it is named this group will be placed immediately in charge of the drive for funds, Mr. Isaacson said.

In announcing that the drive would be launched without delay the Zionist head explained that immediate action is deemed necessary because, although the actual attacks have virtually ceased, refugees are pouring into Jerusalem and the Jordan country from the hill towns and farms laid waste by the marauding Moslems. VETERANS FAVOR VOTE ON 18TH AMENDMENT

National Referendum Gets Backing of Ex-Service Men.

St. Paul, Minn., August 30.—(P)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States today went on record favoring a national referendum on repeal or retention of the eighteenth amendment.

Child of the stormiest session of its 30th annual encampment here, the resolution endorsing the organization for either the "wets" or the "drys" and suggested that in view of strongly opposed claims that the exact sentiment of the people be recorded.

While delegates shouted for the floor from every section of the convention hall the encampment took on the complexion of an old-time political debate. The final action represented a compromise between the extreme wings represented in the settlement of the delegates and was largely a victory of a group who sought to prevent having the veterans go on record on "a question" outside of the aim of this organization.

Election of Ezekiah N. Duff, Lansing, Mich., as the new commander-in-chief by unanimous vote and selection of Baltimore as the 1930 convention city over St. Petersburg, Fla., were other high spots in the final business session today.

Members of the council of administration elected were: Joseph H. Hanken, Revere, Mass.; Fred Stover, Butler, Pa.; Ray McAdams, Fort Wayne, Ind.; H. J. Snodgrass, William E. Githner, Denver; C. R. Chittenden, Seattle; Charles J. Hildebrand, Pasadena, Cal.

BOND OF SAUNDERS RAISED TO $25,000

Bond of G. M. Saunders, who was indicted jointly with Jerry Tiffney for alleged bogus stock deals, was increased from $15,000 to $25,000 Friday afternoon by Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court following action of J. J. C. Davis, of Saunders' counsel, in withdrawing his client's plea of guilty to a misdemeanor indictment.

Judge Moore heard from counsel for Saunders, attorneys for the defendant's creditors and from the solicitor general's office in fixing bond for Saunders. Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens contended that Saunders had not only not lived up to an agreement under which he was to make restitution and take a fine of $1,000 under a plea to one indictment, but that he had repudiated the agreement.

Counsel for Saunders declared that their client had not repudiated the agreement, but was making every effort to live up to it, and that his appearance in court on several occasions was evidence of his good faith. The agreement, explained to Judge Moore, was originally entered into by Saunders, and later Tiffney offered to pay half of the $31,000 specified for restitution if he was allowed to enter a plea and take a similar fine. Counsel for Saunders asked that the matter be carried over until Wednesday in order that the defendant might complete negotiations for securing the money.

After hearing from the three interested factions, Judge Moore said that he would sentence Saunders to pay a $10,000 fine and serve 12 months, with the provision that the sentence could be probated when restitution was made. Saunders then withdrew the plea of guilty, and Judge Moore ordered the bond increased.

LOCAL 'TRAVELERS' OFFICIALS INVITED TO HOME OFFICE

John W. Sears, Jr., assistant manager, and Charles M. H. Pearson, field assistant, agency development and life, accident and group departments in the Atlanta branch office of The Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., have been invited to a business conference which will be held at the home office of The Travelers September 3-6, inclusive.

Mr. Sears and Mr. Pearson will be among more than 200 assistant managers and field assistants from 30 states and the District of Columbia and from several provinces of Canada who will attend the conference. Sixty-seven branch office cities of the company will be represented.

During the business sessions, which will be held each of the four days of the meeting, questions of importance in the field of life, accident and group insurance will be discussed. Home office officials of the company will address the various sessions as well as a number of the members of branch office staffs.

School Teacher Not "Nellie Wright" In Federal Court

Miss Nellie Wright, public school teacher, of 1001 Sims avenue, Friday asked that The Constitution explain that she is not the Nellie Wright who Thursday was brought before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith for a hearing on charges of violating the prohibition law.

The Nellie Wright who was brought before the commissioner escaped being bound over when a man appeared in court and told Judge Griffith that he owned the drink which was found in the woman's possession.

LEGALITY OF NEW STATE INCOME TAX MAY BE ATTACKED

Possibility of a legal attack on the Boykin income tax measure approved by the 1929 state legislature was seen Friday in a communication of J. P. McGrath, secretary-treasurer of the Georgia Manufacturers' Association.

Double taxation on incomes, as a result of passing both the income tax and the sales tax measures, is charged by Mr. McGrath. The sales tax levies on gross receipts of manufacturers, retailers, wholesalers, amusement companies, public utilities.

The Boykin bill taxes individuals and firms one-third their returns on incomes to the federal government.

Speaking for the manufacturing interests, Mr. McGrath hinted that court action would be resorted to in an effort to end what he believed to be unjust taxation.

SUPPLY OF STEEL ARRIVES IN CITY FOR NEW BRIDGE

Steel for construction of the superstructure of the new Mitchell street viaduct arrived Friday in Atlanta, and Alexander MacDougald, president of the MacDougald Construction company, contractors on the project, announced that work of erecting the material will be started immediately with the purpose of turning the reconstructed bridge over to the city to earlier part of this winter.

Foundations already have been completed and only erection of the steel structure and paving remains. The city awarded the improvement to the MacDougald company following completion of the Pryor street and Central avenue structures by the firm. The twin-viaducts are Atlanta's most pretentious civic improvement and represent an investment of about $2,250,000.

SIX MEN SEEKING POSTS ON PENSION FUND OF POLICE

The political pot of the police department is boiling vigorously in preparation for the election next Tuesday of two members of the force to the board of trustees of the police pension fund.

Captain A. J. Holcombe is standing for re-election but Captain G. C. Fain decided not to run. Lieutenants C. H. Mitchell and S. J. Roberts and Patrolmen L. P. Higgins, O. C. Howell and W. C. Hardy are among the candidates.

The board has three ex-official members, Chief James L. Beavers, B. Graham West, city comptroller, and Jake Ewing, city treasurer. The other two members are elected from the force at regular intervals. The last report of the fund shows a total of $87,515.02 in assets.

Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business.

B. C. Forbes, editor of Forbes Magazine.

Dr. Walter Hollis Eddy, professor of physiological chemistry, Teachers' college, Columbia university.

Booklet Gives Material.
In order to provide authoritative information on the subject for the use of contestants, the council has published a booklet, "How to Safeguard Your Family's Health." It was written by Mrs. Elizabeth Stone MacDonald, nationally known home economist, writer and lecturer. The booklet also contains the rules for the contest, a list of the prizes and references for further study. Copies may be obtained from National Food Preservation Council, 420 Lexington avenue, New York City.

Mrs. MacDonald in the booklet says:

"The hygienic care that dealers can lavish outside the kitchen door, can be undone by carelessness within it wherever the home manager fails to keep the loyalty to family welfare inherited from her forebears."

Waste and Sickness.
"Hygienic authorities are one in emphasizing that waste of food in the home and preventable danger of sickness resulting from some forms of food spoilage are far too prevalent, considering the means of prevention now at our disposal."

"In fairness to the provider, to prevent needless waste, as well as to safeguard health, we should re-examine the perfection of our own home procedures in food preservation."

What Makes Food Spoil.
"The homemaker, whether she knows it or not, is daily policing a 'crime wave' in her own house. The bandits are so small that they cannot be seen with the naked eye. They are true criminals, however, for they do nothing toward their own support but live instead by preying upon others."

"Technically these undesirable elements are microscopic plants or animals. The vigilance of the housekeeper against them can never relax because they are constantly active and invisibly present in the things we eat and drink. For instance, one harmful organism allowed to cultivate in unrefrigerated milk for five hours, can have produced 1,023 more just like itself, all equally vigorous and dangerous."

That Run-Down Feeling.
"Some of our run-down and tired feelings arise through failure to preserve food properly and its consequent service in a wilted or unhealthy condition."

"The difficulty in realizing the need for vigilance against micro-organisms is two-fold. In the first place only some of them are dangerous. The fact that so many are harmless keeps our caution drugged until after serious damage has been done by one of the virulent type.

In the second place, we have not yet become used to the existence, as dangerous realities, of things we cannot see. Take, for instance, the bacteria. They are the smallest plants known. On the ball of my thumb, as I write, I might have three hundred million of them, in a layer one hundred deep, and still I could neither see them nor feel them."

"Luckily for us, not many of these micro-organisms are deadly and all of them can apparently be overcome if we use modern scientific precautions. In our daily experience these minute growths are more likely to waste our money by food spoilage than our bodies by sickness."

Always in the Air.
"Mold, mildew, and ferment are all due to microscopic fungus growth. The sources of these growths are always in the air of a house. The 'musty' smell that sometimes meets the nostrils of a damp cellar is the signal sent us, by our nose, that the 'seeds,' or spores of the sub-microscopic plants are swimming everywhere about us."

"Like normal, green plants these infinitesimal ones grow both down and up. They burrow into the material upon which they fasten and they send up 'flowers' to 'seed.' Unlike green growing things they cannot manufacture their own food from air and water, but must steal life from other organic materials."

"Selling from this theft we call by various unpleasant names from even the sound of which our wholesome senses shrink, 'rot,' 'putrefaction,' 'sour' 'moulded.'"

Refrigeration.
"Refrigeration is undoubtedly the most effective aid which the homemaker can employ in commanding storage for a properly balanced and wholesome food supply the whole year through, whatever the climate."

"Adequate refrigeration supplies the three most powerful aids to food preservation:

"1. A temperature between 40 and 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Above 50 degrees the rate of bacterial growth ceases to be a refrigerator and becomes an incubator."

"2. A current of clean, cold air in motion."

"3. Air free from excess moisture."

"Related experiments have proved the need for all three factors in combination."

Use of the Refrigerator.
"Refrigeration, like bright lighting, is an all-year round need. Any housekeeper who keeps track of food spoilage in winter which the use of properly controlled temperature would have prevented, can readily prove to herself the economy of its year-round operation."

"Our most essential foods are precisely the ones that the unseen food bandits like best. Food molds, meat spoils, vegetables rot, and milk soured because micro-organisms find nourishment in them and leave in them the harmful products resulting from their growth. This they do in all 12 months of the year, unless preservation by dry, moving, clean air below 50 degrees and about 32 degrees guards them from attack."

"It has been scientifically established that in milk, for instance, bacteria will multiply 150 times as fast at 70 degrees F. as at 50 degrees F. The danger of maintaining an inefficient refrigerator, and at the same time not recognizing the inefficiency is self-evident."

"In the last 10 years the demand for refrigerators has increased approximately 30 per cent while the population has increased only 9 per cent. At the same time there has been a decrease of infant deaths in 17 states at a rate ranging from 1 to 11 lives in every 1,000. It is quite possible that refrigeration has contributed a considerable part in the protection of human life."

FOREIGN WAR VETS AS K REFERENDUM ON DRY AMENDMENT

St. Paul, Minn., August 30.—(P)—In the most turbulent session of its thirtieth annual encampment, the Veterans of Foreign Wars today went on record favoring a national referendum on the eighteenth amendment after tabling a resolution asking for an out-and-out repeal of the dry constitutional amendment.

Herzlieb N. Duff, Lansing, Mich., senior vice commander, today was unanimously elected commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the closing session of the thirtieth annual encampment. Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, retired, Washington, sought as a candidate, refused to oppose Commander Duff.

The following major officers also were elected unanimously by the veterans: Paul C. Wolman, Baltimore, senior vice commander; Harold D. Decco, Sacramento, junior vice commander; R. B. Handy, Jr., Kansas City, quartermaster general; Rev. Wallace Hayes, Brookline, Mass., chaplain.

Baltimore was selected as the 1930 convention city, St. Petersburg, Fla., was the only other city formally entering an invitation. Los Angeles, which considered presenting an invitation, decided to withhold it and the entire California delegation gave its support to St. Petersburg.

CITY OFFICIAL OF SAN FRANCISCO TO BE PROSECUTED

San Francisco, August 30.—(P)—John H. Thier, city treasurer, has resigned following a grand jury request that he be suspended and prosecuted for irregularities in office. The resignation, effective at once, was accepted by Mayor James Rolph, Jr.

Charges that Thier had used city funds to purchase a $3,850 motor boat and that he had exchanged city monies for bank cashier's checks, which bore no interest, were made by Ignatius A. Richardson, former chief deputy treasurer.

In his resignation, Thier denied any wrongdoing and pointed out that the grand jury did not indict him. He said ill health was his reason for retirement.

TWO WAYCROSS MEN ON CANAL COMMISSION

Waycross, Ga., August 30.—(Special).—Waycross is represented on the state commission to investigate plans for an Atlantic-Gulf of Mexico canal by Dr. William M. Folks and Judge Harry D. Reed.

Dr. Folks, a member of the American College of Surgeons, has taken an active part in the development of this section of the state and is thoroughly familiar with the canal plans. Judge Reed is one of the best known of Georgia's public men. He has served as head of the Kiwanis club of the state, and as judge of the Waycross superior court circuit.

Poor Care of Food Blamed For Many Preventable Ills

This city, in common with the rest of industrial America, is absorbing its proportionate share of $2,000,000,000 doctor's bill annually. Premature deaths cost another $6,000,000,000 in economic losses.

Despite striking progress made in checking some diseases in the last decade, the earning power of every person in the United States is reduced an average of almost $20 a year through ill health.

These facts were made public in some impressive statistics compiled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Through them the chamber hoped to call attention of business men and manufacturers to the enormous toll sickness and preventable deaths exact from the nation's earning power.

The final price industries pay for sickness has never been determined, the chamber declared. Only estimates may be presented, based upon records obtained from varied sources.

One manufacturer with an annual pay roll approximating $5,000,000 estimated illness among his employees cost $287,500 annually. This includes charges for idle machinery and reduced production.

The loss to the individuals and the community due to illness of his employees is placed at $305,000 a year, taking into consideration direct loss in wages, lowered earning capacity during convalescence, medical expenses and charitable relief.

In the business world a representative group of stores, the chamber said, showed that illness and injury cost each employee an average of six days a year.

For a working force of 1,000 persons, earning an average of $3 daily, this totals up to $18,000 a year in direct wage loss alone.

The chamber pointed out that encouraging progress has been made in checking disease. The future promises even greater strides in this direction through improved sanitary conditions.

Many things are contributing to these improved conditions, chief among them being an awakened bacterin consciousness in America, and greater care in the preservation of food.

United States government dietitians point out that a diet must not only be well balanced but must consist of food that has been properly protected from its source to the table.

cate that milk, fresh meat, poultry, fish, fresh fruits, vegetables and other perishable foodstuffs must be kept at a temperature lower than 50 degrees in order to prevent the growth of bacteria and other micro-organisms which are responsible for many preventable diseases. A mechanical refrigerator, or an ice refrigerator well iced, will maintain temperatures well below the 50 degree mark.

Through better dietary control, and increased knowledge of preventative methods applied to disease, tuberculosis, diphtheria, typhoid, influenza and pneumonia, which once exacted the greatest toll in human life, are being brought more under control each year, the chamber declares.

Reduction of the tuberculosis mortality rate alone, since 1900, means a saving to the nation of $2,000,000,000 a year, it is estimated.

"Health is life's greatest asset," says United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, former health commissioner of New York City. "To preserve health is to perpetuate happiness and success. So much depends on the food we eat that the proper care of food in the home is a paramount public as well as private responsibility."

"The National Food Preservation program, a movement looking toward wider knowledge of the scientific principles of food preservation, is deserving of a cordial recommendation."

RUM RUNNING FIGHT CUTS EXPORTS IN HALF

Canada Shippers Suffer as Blockade of Treasury Proves Effective.

Washington, August 30.—(P)—The treasury's campaign against rum running from Canada in the Detroit area is shown in customs bureau figures made public today to decrease the Canadian liquor exports from towns across the border by more than 50 per cent.

The liquor imports from Canadian towns opposite Detroit for June and July totaled 171,719 cases, as compared with 439,101 in the same month of last year, or a drop from 1,096,732 to 429,296 gallons.

The treasury's campaign to stop the smuggling of liquor across the border at and near Detroit was inaugurated in April, but the increased forces sent there did not get into action until May. At once, however, there was a decrease from 125,359 cases exported in May of last year to 68,901 cases in May of this year. In June the decrease was from 147,209 cases last year to 48,896 cases this year; while in July the liquor exports from points opposite the Detroit area to the United States dropped from 166,533 cases last year to 53,892 cases this year.

The decrease in liquor exportation from the Canadian cities was noticeable as soon as the border patrol began to gather at Detroit. In April of this year the exportation total was 71,430 cases, while the May figures showed that 6,096 gallons less on liquor was cleared for this country.

The clearance figures which were furnished by the Canadian government also showed that the total Canadian clearances since last March amounted to 793,761 gallons. The figures include whiskey, wine, beer, brandies and all alcoholic beverages which come under the ban of the prohibition law.

He supported the Boykin income tax bill and introduced the measure that was enacted regulating the sale of milk and milk products. Under this measure, these products will be supervised by the state veterinarian with the view of securing correct weight and authorized test. While he opposed the sales tax law, he proposed as a substitute a bill providing for a public service corporation tax similar to that on Virginia and North Carolina. He protested against the senate amendment to the sales tax, by which only the higher of the two taxes, sales and income, should be paid, and largely through his effort the postponement of the operation of this amendment until 1931 was effected.

Record of Judge Brown as Solon Pleases People

Greensboro, Ga., August 30.—(Special).—Judge Joseph T. Brown, Greens county's representative in the general assembly, has been given a hearty welcome home upon the adjournment of that body.

His constituents here are well pleased with the record he made and especially his efforts in behalf of agricultural measures. So active was Mr. Brown in this connection that after organizing the farmers in the house he was put especially in charge of the department of agriculture bills and was active in the passage of the fertilizer bill guaranteeing farmers high-grade fertilizer with no ingredients that do not contain available plant food.

He supported the Burkin bill to remove local legislation from the general assembly, leaving such matters to the respective counties. He introduced and secured favorable report of the house judiciary committee a measure to punish the breach of a farm labor contract.

How to SAFEGUARD YOUR FAMILY'S HEALTH IN WINTER MONTHS

Health centers upon the food we eat. You know that. And so for your family you buy the best of nourishing food.

But do you preserve this food safely, economically?

Doctors and public health authorities are agreed that only artificial refrigeration the year around safely guards perishable food products. Cold is the conqueror of those tiny micro-organisms that cause food to spoil. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that point harmful bacteria multiply astonishingly. When the temperature falls too low foods freeze, lose their nourishment value.

Mother Nature is a poor guardian of perishable foods. Back-porch and window-sill makeshifts for food preservation are unsatisfactory, insanitary, unsafe. Study of Weather Bureau reports shows that only 19 days a year, on an average in the United States, afford outdoor temperatures that are safe for perishable foods. Ninety-four per cent of the time it is too warm—too cold.

Trusting to these makeshifts is not an economy. The food spoilage—a little here, a little there—amounts to a staggering loss at the end of a year. And the menace to health lurks always in these perishables that are improperly preserved.

Health Authorities, everywhere, recommend adequate artificial refrigeration the year around as the only safe and satisfactory way to preserve perishable foods. Take this step now to save money and safeguard the health of your family.

Seventh Juror Selected In Gastonia Trial as 215 Veniremen Are Examined

Third Day Passed With Jury To Try 16 Accused of Slaying Only Half Selected.

Charlotte, N. C., August 30.—(AP) A steady stream of veniremen passed slowly in review in the Mecklenburg county court today, but all were found wanting until a few minutes before adjournment, when the seventh juror was agreed upon.

A. F. Parker, Charlotte grocery clerk, passed satisfactorily the examination given prospective jurors by the attorneys and was admitted to the jury box, where 12 men will sit in judgment on the 16 Gastonia labor leaders and strikers accused of the murder of the Gastonia police chief.

The new juryman was from the second special venire summoned. The regular venire of 15 and the special venire of 200 had been exhausted by noon today and by late afternoon a considerable dent had been made in the newest special venire of 300 prospective jurors. Three days already have been consumed in the effort to select the jury.

By far the greatest number of those excused today pleaded bias. Most of them had, they said, definitely made up their minds that Fred Erwin Beal, Gastonia strike leader, and his 15 co-defendants were guilty of murdering Police Chief O. F. Aderholt, on the night of June 7. They felt, they added, they could not give the defendants a fair trial and were usually excused by Judge M. V. Barnhill.

There were some, however, who declared they were opposed to capital punishment and were relieved of jury duty for this reason. A few had definitely made up their minds that the defendants were not guilty.

The case is the outgrowth of a textile strike at the Loray mill in Gastonia. The police chief was shot, as he and four police officers entered a tent colony of the strikers to investigate reports of fighting. A change of venue was granted at a hearing in Gastonia by Judge Barnhill, when the defense argued a fair trial could not be secured because of feeling against the strikers.

Losing Patience.
Judge Barnhill late today appeared to be losing patience as one after another venireman made excuses why he could not give a fair trial and when B. I. Barnett, farmer, of Long Creek township, became evasive in his answers and declared he "couldn't say but what he was opposed to capital punishment" and didn't know whether this would be a hindrance to him in reaching a verdict, the judge ordered a deputy to take him into the rear room and hold him there a while to see if he couldn't decide on something definite.

Judge Barnhill also took attorneys to task for excusing S. B. Alexander, wealthy Charlotte man. J. D. McCall, defense attorney, explained to Judge Barnhill that Mr. Alexander had asked if he could not be excused since he had to leave the city on business. It was after adjournment of court yesterday, Mr. McCall said, and he and Solicitor John G. Carpenter had agreed to let the prospective juror go.

Let It Stand.
"I'll let it stand this time," the judge told attorneys, "but hereafter don't excuse anyone. Mr. Alexander couldn't have any business more important than serving on the jury."

The defense excused A. F. Stephens, a farmer, who admitted he had never read of the case, did not subscribe to a newspaper, and did not know Police Chief Aderholt was dead.

The six jurymen selected yesterday and the day before are: J. W. Hicks, cotton mill employee; J. C. Campbell, newspaper vendor; C. W. Martin, carpenter; and J. O. McCoy, steel worker, all of Charlotte; Zeb Morris, Jr., of Matthews, farmer; S. L. Caldwell, farmer, of Huntersville.

The 13 men charged with first degree murder in connection with the police chief's death are: Fred Erwin Beal, Lawrence, Mass.; Clarence Miller, New York; Joseph Harrison, Passaic, N. J.; George Carter, Mizpah, N. J.; K. O. Byers, J. C. Heffner, K. Y. Hendricks, W. M. McGinnis, Louis McLaughlin, Russell Knight, Robert Allen, N. F. Gibson and Delmar Hampton, all of Gastonia. Amy Schechter, Vera Burch and Sophie Melvin, all of New York, are charged with second degree murder.

C. Murphey Candler Named Chairman at First Meeting Of New W. & A. Commission

Organization Completed at Session in Office of Governor—W. T. Anderson Vice Chairman.

Organization of the Western & Atlantic Railroad commission, recently created by the state legislature to administer affairs of the state-owned railroad, was completed at the initial meeting of the body Friday morning in the office of Governor Hardman, ex-officio member of the commission.

C. Murphey Candler, Atlanta member of the commission, was elected chairman on nomination of the governor. W. T. Anderson, Macon editor, was chosen vice chairman. Other members of the commission, named in the legislature bill, which created the body, are H. T. McIntosh, Albany; Judge W. Frank Jenkins, of the court of appeals; W. C. Martin, Dalton; and C. K. C. Ausley, Thomasville.

Resignation of Justice H. Warner Hill, of the supreme court bench, from membership on the commission, was received and accepted by the members. An eighth member to take his place was not named at the first meeting, although the commission has the power to name alternates. Mrs. Mattie H. Carrington, secretary of the executive department, was named secretary of the commission.

After organization, the commission announced itself prepared to receive any propositions affecting improvement of the railroad. The principal project being planned is the erection of a 17-story office building and cold storage plant on the present site of the Union depot.

Contracts for the building with representatives of the N. C. & St. L. railroad and the United States Cold Storage Company, of Chicago, along lines already mapped out are expected to be forthcoming in the near future.

The commission will meet again when called by its chairman, Mr. Candler. It was announced Friday that the call will be issued when propositions and contracts from interested firms have been received by the commission.

M'DOUGALD FIRM BID FOR PAVING GIVEN APPROVAL

Recommendation that the MacDougald Construction Company be awarded the contract for paving two streets, totaling 3,456 square yards, at an aggregate cost of $6,422.85, featured the regular semi-monthly meeting of the streets committee of city council Friday afternoon.

Paving of English avenue from Bankhead avenue to Wheeler street and Tison drive from Carter avenue to East Lake drive is involved. The committee also voted to place a float in the Labor Day parade representing the construction department of the city of Atlanta.

RAMSPECK PLANS CAMPAIGN SPEECH AT CONYERS TODAY

Continuing his campaign for election to fill the seat of the late Congressman Leslie J. Steele, Robert Ramspeck, of DeKalb county, announced Friday that he would speak before a public gathering Saturday afternoon at the Rockdale county courthouse in Conyers.

Mr. Ramspeck was representative from DeKalb county in the session of the 1929 state legislature just adjourned. The meeting Saturday is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

JONES' RETURN TAKEN AS FAVORABLE OMEN

Believed To Mean Nearer Point Reached in Naval Parleys.

Washington, August 30.—(P)—Added evidence that Anglo-American naval discussions have reached a point at which an agreement is believed to be near came today with the announcement that Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones had returned, temporarily at least, to retired status.

The rear admiral, who retired in 1927 but has been called back to active duty whenever important matters involving naval policy needed attention, for the past week has been engaged with the navy general board in checking the technical portions of the data which the administration has furnished Great Britain regarding this country's position on naval reduction.

For the time being the general board's task is done and, in the words of one of its members, "There will now be a brief pause for station announcements."

The same situation prevailed at the state department, with Secretary Stimson out of the city and other high officials relaxing from the strain of the past several days during which they have been kept at their desks long after regular hours.

President Hoover, who for several days has given them no other matters confronting him, also left the White House for a visit to the Virginia mountains over Labor Day.

Admiral Jones made it clear that his return to inactive status did not signify the ending of his naval career. He left today for a rest in New England, but will be available any day and may return to active duty when needed either for consultation or to represent the navy at a disarmament session, as he has done twice before.

At the time of his retirement the rear admiral was ranking officer of the navy and had just ended 47 years of active service by acting as a delegate to the three-power arms limitation conference of 1927. Since, then, however, his valuable experience has caused him to be recalled repeatedly.

Last spring he attended the preparatory disarmament commission's session at Geneva as a technical advisor. Since then he has been attached to the office of the secretary of the navy, consulting constantly with leaders of the administration during the course of naval discussions.

PAPER GROUP REFUSES TO SURRENDER STOCK

Defense in Control Suit Holds Order of Judge Franklin Void.

Macon, Ga., August 30.—(P)—Federal Judge Bascom S. Deaver shut off a rapid-fire encounter among attorneys in the Hall-Lavarre newspaper suit today with a decision to hear arguments tomorrow morning on "law or fact" pertaining to securities and monies involved.

Today's exchange brought to a startling climax the eight-day hearing of Harold Hall's suit for equal operating control of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, the Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and Journal and the Columbia (S. C.) Record.

All of these papers were purchased with advances amounting to about $870,000 from the International Paper Company. Hall contends he was an equal partner in the enterprise, but Lavarre has answered that Hall was merely his employee.

The skirmish was occasioned by a request from John A. Sibley, attorney for Hall, that the court order the stock in the four papers brought into court as evidence. Hall's counsel later supplemented this by asking also for all money received by Lavarre's hands out of the $870,000, which has not been attached in other court proceedings.

At this point, an attorney representing the New York law firm of Coudert Bros. replied that they held the stock in question, but that Hall, Lavarre and the International Paper Company had all notified them against improper disposition of the stock. They said they held it subject to "the orders of this court." The stock originally had been given them by Lavarre.

Order Void. Lavarre's attorneys then stepped in with the contention that they held Judge A. L. Franklin's order in Richmond superior court at Augusta, Ga., from which the case has been removed by agreement, was void, and that it was not necessary to turn over the stock at this time.

A. B. Lovett, for Lavarre, also stated that the arguments today were instigated under the impression that court would adjourn through next week. He said he resented the implication that Lavarre "would do something to destroy the status of this stock or money during a week's recess."

Hall's attorneys then amended their original request and said they asked only that the court order the stock and money be brought into court pending final disposition of the case. They were answered by Lavarre's counsel that to bring this stock and money into court would imply a ruling on a point upon which they had not been heard. Then the court held it would hear arguments as to law or fact on this point tomorrow morning.

The set-to came just as Hall left the witness stand after days of testimony, half of which has been spent under cross-examination. Cross-examination at the hands of Lavarre's attorneys today was directed particularly as to the transfer of $400,000 from the International to Lavarre for purchase of the two Spartanburg papers.

First Cotton.

Carrollton, Ga., August 30.—(Special).—Carrollton received its first bale of new crop cotton today. It was grown in Heard county, just over the Carroll line, by L. J. Brazil. It weighed 115 pounds and was bought by local buyers at 20 cents a pound.

HOOVER RETURNS TO MOUNTAIN CAMP

Score of Guests Accompany Executive—Party To Stay Until Tuesday.

Madison, Va., August 30.—(P)—President Hoover returned to the seclusion of his mountain camp on the Rapidan late today to remain over Labor Day.

The chief executive, accompanied by more than a score of guests, newspaper correspondents and secret service men, made the journey from Washington by motor, arriving late in the afternoon. He plans to return to Washington Tuesday morning.

In addition to the president, Mrs. Hoover and their son, Allan, the party included Chairman Leage, of the farm board, and four of his colleagues, Commissioners Teague, Denman, Wilson and Williams and their wives.

Secretary Hyde also was a guest, and in conferences during their stay there the board members were expected to give the president an account of the meeting in Chicago at which plans were made to organize the Farmers' National Grain Marketing Corporation.

Other guests included Mrs. Jean Large, sister of Mrs. Hoover, and her children, Janet and Delano; John Beaver White, of Philadelphia, and his daughter, Joan; Mark Sullivan, newspaper writer, and his daughter, Narcissa; Walter Newton, the president's secretary, and Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, U. S. N., White House physician.

1929 TOBACCO SEASON IS OFFICIALLY CLOSED

Final Figures Show Increase of $6,000,000 Over Last Year's Crop.

Receipts in excess of $16,000,000 for the 1929 Georgia tobacco season just closed, or nearly $6,000,000 more than the return on last year's crop were reported Friday in a statement issued by the senate department of agriculture.

The six weeks' totals covered sales at three Metter warehouses, which remained open two days this week after all other markets had shut down last Saturday.

The season's recapitulation showed that 90,881,721 pounds of tobacco brought $16,081,689.43 for an average price of $18.36. Of these figures 2,578,966 pounds were produced outside the state and marketed in Georgia for $473,130.56.

The 1928 totals represented $5,727,172 pounds for a return of $10,038,975.19, or an average of $12.78 a hundred pounds.

In the 1928 season the final figures covered 2,849,838 pounds of tobacco raised outside Georgia and sold within the state's borders.

The corresponding week in 1928 for the final week this year saw 403,701 pounds of low grade tobacco sold for $25,765.09, or an average of $6.35 a hundred.

ATLANTA ENTERTAINS CUBAN PARTY TODAY

Army and Navy Officials
And 28 Boys Will Be City Guests.

Colonel Julio Morales Coello, naval aid to the president of Cuba; Colonel Eugenio Silva, of the Cuban army; and Major Francisco Fernandez de Lora, of the general staff of the Cuban army, will arrive in the city this afternoon in charge of 28 Cuban boys to be the guests for three days of the Georgia Military academy. The party is on the way home following its stay during the summer at Camp Highland Lake, N. C.

Harry O. Mitchell, representing the department of commerce, heads an entertainment committee of Atlantans who will meet the party on its arrival. Captain Hargis, formerly attached to the United States consular service in Havana and now head of the Spanish department at G. M. A., will act as interpreter.

Automobile rides to Stone Mountain, the cyclorama, and Atlanta industrial plants are on their program during the Atlanta stay. Carter Harlan, manager of the Capitol theater, already has arranged for a theater party for the group during the stay here.

The courtesy shown the Cuban

MRS. LOUISE BURKE FUNERAL SATURDAY AT SACRED HEART

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise C. Burke, 60, who died Friday morning, will be conducted at 11 o'clock this morning at the Sacred Heart church by the Rev. Father M. A. Cotter. Burial will be at the family vault in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Burke, who was the widow of Captain Joseph E. Burke, for many years a leader of the Old Guard, died at a local hospital early Friday morning after an extended illness.

She was a native of Washington, Ga., but lived in Atlanta during the greater part of her life. For the past 20 years she had maintained her residence at 80 Peachtree place. In addition to the part she took in the work of the Sacred Heart church she was widely known here for her interest in the cultural and social life of the city. Recently her activities had been curtailed by failing health.

Mrs. Burke leaves no immediate relatives, but is survived by several cousins living in Georgia and Florida cities.

COMMISSION OKAYS STATE PURCHASE TO EXTEND CAPITOL

Purchase by the state of properties immediately opposite the state capitol on Mitchell street was authorized Friday by the special commission created by the general assembly to take charge of renovating the state capitol. The property in question is now used to house the health and military departments, the capitol building being too crowded to accommodate them.

A special appropriation of $250,000 was passed by the legislature for renovating and repairing the capitol building. Of this sum it was specified that $35,000 should be used to purchase the property that is now leased by the state. The commission consists of Representatives High, Peterson, of Montgomery county, and John Wesley Weekes, of DeKalb; Senator Whaley, of the Atlanta district; Attorney-General George M. Napier, and State Auditor Tom Wisdom.

GOLDMAN, NARCOTIC AGENT IN ATLANTA, GOES TO CANADA

I. Goldman, federal narcotic agent stationed in Atlanta since February, who was an American spy in Germany during the World War, has been transferred to the Canadian border with headquarters in Detroit, effective September 1. It was announced here Friday. Mr. Goldman expects to leave Atlanta tonight and will report for active duty Monday morning.

He was brought here from New York the first of the year and since that time has been instrumental in bringing to justice numerous violators of the Harrison narcotic act. He expects to make numerous trips here in the near future to attend court when some of his cases are brought up for trial. A number have been scheduled for the adjourned March term which begins September 7, while others will be taken up during the October term which begins the first Monday in October.

Mr. Goldman served in many parts of Europe during the war in a special intelligence unit of the department of justice and had many thrilling experiences which included posing as a German army officer while searching for valuable information.

Graf Zeppelin Is Saved From Legal Attachment By U. S. Navy Authorities

Air Liner Will Sail for Home Tonight—Fast Time on Return Trip Is Planned by Pilot.

BY LYLE C. WILSON.

United News Staff Correspondent. Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., August 30.—The Graf Zeppelin, which is sheltering, fueling and repairing the Graf Zeppelin for its departure tomorrow night on a fast trip to Friedrichshafen, saved the liner from attachment by an undersheriff last today.

When Undersheriff J. E. Holman of Orange county, New Jersey, appeared at the hangar to attach the Zeppelin for $25,000 in a suit filed by a would-be passenger whose round-trip ticket had been cancelled, Commander Maurice Pierce, of the Lakehurst station intervened.

"This is federal property," he told Holman, "and the court order cannot be enforced here unless the navy department at Washington says so."

Washington says "No." He asked Washington for instructions as to whether to give Holman possession of the dirigible, and the answer came back, "No."

Had the answer been "Yes," representatives of the German owners probably would have had to post $50,000—twice the amount of the attachment—to release the monarch of the air for its Friedrichshafen trip.

As it was the incident caused some nervousness. Captain Ernst von Schiller, who was in command of the Zeppelin at the time, told the United News he didn't see the undersheriff. "It is laughable," he said without smiling much, "we will laugh."

The attachment move resulted from a suit started at Toms River, N. J., by Otto Hillig, wealthy property owner and publisher of Liberty, N. Y. Hillig claimed he had paid $9,000 to the Hamburg-American lines, agents for the Graf's owners, for a round-the-world passage, and that his ticket was cancelled without just cause or a refund. He sued for his money back and also for $100,000 to cover "humiliation and embarrassment."

Hope of establishing a new round-the-world record speeded repair and refueling crews today in preparing the Graf for the flight to Friedrichshafen.

Given a good break in the weather, the Graf may reduce the time required by man to encircle the globe to about 19 days. On the round trip from Lakehurst to Lakehurst by way of Friedrichshafen, 21 days, 16 hours and 32 minutes elapsed. Only 16 days ago the Graf left Friedrichshafen on the second lap of its journey from Lakehurst. If it can return to Friedrichshafen before 7:07 a. m. (eastern standard time) September 5 that record will have been broken.

The Graf's schedule calls for departure at midnight tomorrow, and the dirigible should be in Friedrichshafen early on the morning of September 3, with two full days elapsed from its newly established record.

Captain Ernst Lehmann, who will command the dirigible in place of Dr. Hugo Eckener, said he had ordered to make the fastest possible time to the home hangar. The shortest route is over the great circle course followed by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in his solo flight from Europe to America. Captain Lehmann said he was requested today to transmit weather data to the navy so that some forecast could be made of northern weather conditions.

The names of five new passengers were added to the list for the Friedrichshafen flight, in addition to those who started their world dirigible tour from Friedrichshafen. The five are John W. Schnitzer, of Froid, Mont., republican national committeeman and banker; R. A. L. Brogan, of Syracuse, bus company manager; Mrs. Charles B. Parker, of Cleveland; Dr. William F. Scholl, foot specialist, and Edward C. Froyer, brother of Jack Frost, who lost his life in the Dole airplane flight to Hawaii. Three American naval officers will be invited to make the flight. Dr. Eckener, left behind, will leave for Cleveland Monday to attend the national air races. Later he will confer at Akron, Ohio, with Goodyear Zeppelin Company officials concerning construction of dirigibles.

More than 50,000 persons visited the hangar to see the Zeppelin today.

STUDENT AT TECH INJURED IN FALL IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

W. B. Pierson, 21, of Columbia, S. C., a student at Georgia Tech, received severe bruises and a sprained back Thursday night when he fell 15 feet down an elevator shaft in a building at 421 West Peachtree street. Patrolman W. D. Nash reported Friday morning.

According to the records, Pierson had entered the building to return a borrowed wrench when he mistook the door to the elevator shaft for the stairway. He opened this and plunged down to the basement.

Employees extricated him from the shaft and took him to Grady hospital, where it was found that he had suffered no fractures. He was allowed to leave the hospital after receiving treatment.

RAGSDALE AND MOORE SETTLE DIFFERENCES

Chairman of Council Finance Committee Will Retain Position.

Differences between Mayor I. N. Ragdale and Wiley Moore, chairman of city council finance committee, were adjusted at a conference Friday morning and Mr. Moore later in the day withdrew his resignation from the committee chairmanship.

A break between the officials developed last week when the mayor failed to veto appropriations which had not been recommended by Mr. Moore's committee, but had been passed by city council. On Monday of this week the finance head wrote a brief letter to the executive saying that he was resigning his post. In discussing the matter Mr. Moore said that he felt co-operation had been lacking.

Through the efforts of other city officials a conference was arranged between the two men, differences were adjusted and Mr. Moore reconsidered his action.

His decision was submitted formally in the following letter: "Hon. I. N. Ragdale, Mayor, City of Atlanta, Georgia.

"Dear sir: "Since our conversation of this morning I herewith withdraw my resignation as chairman of the finance committee of city council and shall continue as chairman of the committee for the balance of 1929."

"Assuring you of my appreciation of the courtesy you have extended me and with kindest personal regards, I am

"Very respectfully," "WILEY L. MOORE," "Chairman, Finance Committee."

Cool Weather To Stay Today, Forecast Says

Atlanta's latest cool snap, which can be reached between 65 and 85, according to the official forecast of A. H. Scott, assistant meteorologist. There also is the continued possibility of a shower during the afternoon, he said Friday.

The mercury Friday morning dropped to 63 degrees to begin its daily climb and reached a maximum of 75 during the day. These figures probably will be increased to 65 and 85 today, Mr. Scott thinks, but nothing warmer is anticipated.

OLD "KNIFE GAME" TRIED IN ATLANTA; VICTIM LOSES $45

Two well-dressed young "flam-flamers" Friday worked the old "knife game" on W. R. Hood, of Alpharetta, obtaining $45 in cash, according to reports made to Call Office E. Meeks and J. D. Wood, by the victim.

The cheating process occurred about noon at the intersection of Techwood drive and Pine street.

According to officers, the knife game consists in inveigling the victim into betting on his ability to open the blade of a pocketknife. The swindler opens it with ease and then makes the bet. A shift is made and a knife that cannot be opened is substituted for the original one. The object is to continue the betting and shifting until the subject's funds or his patience are exhausted.

JAMES E. BEARDEN, EXPLOSION VICTIM, DIES IN ATLANTA

Burns which he suffered in a gas-line explosion Wednesday morning at his home in Douglasville proved fatal to James E. Bearden, 35-year-old charcoal manufacturer, who died early Friday morning at the Baptist hospital.

Investigation by hospital physicians revealed that Bearden was filling the tank of an automobile near his home. The explosion occurred when he struck a match to examine the contents of the tank.

Mr. Bearden is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. C. C. Hall, a son, J. W. Bearden, Unadilla, and his mother, Mrs. Laura Bearden, and two brothers, W. H. and R. A. Bearden, of Birmingham. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Awtry & Lowndes.

CITY HALL FLOOR LEASE TO HIGHWAY BOARD IS OPPOSED

Proposed lease of the seventh floor of the new city hall to engineering forces of the state highway department, failed to receive the approval of the city hall special committee at its meeting Friday afternoon, according to Councilman Howard McCutcheon, chairman.

Mr. McCutcheon stated that the members of the committee felt that expansion of the city's various executive and administrative departments eventually would require all of the space in the new 15-story structure.

All city department heads have been allotted space in the new building by the committee. The arrangement agreed upon at Friday's meeting met the unanimous approval of all concerned.

Mr. McCutcheon stated Friday that bids for furniture and furnishings for the new city hall would be asked soon.

GROCER ROBBED 5 TIMES IN YEAR BY SAME BANDIT

S. Feldman, proprietor of a grocery at 141 Chappell street, Friday morning, became a victim of a holdup man for the fifth time within a year.

Feldman believes that in each case the same negro was responsible.

The latest visitation was made early Friday morning, just after the store had been opened for business. The negro, with a companion, entered the store, drew a pistol and removed about $30 from the cash till.

The lost brought the total loss from the five holdups to $207. On four previous occasions the marauder took sums of $54, $87, $49 and $67.

In reporting the latest robbery to the police Friday the grocer was positive in his belief that one man has been responsible for all holdups. Some time ago he was accompanied by another negro but always he is the one who holds the gun, Feldman claims.

Feldman expressed his hopes that on the next occasion he will see the marauder before the pistol has been drawn, for he is positive of his ability to recognize the man and hopes to be able to effect his capture.

BEAVERS-POOLE CLASH REMAINS UNSETTLED

Police Committee Expected To Decide Controversy September 11.

Controversy between Chief of Police James L. Beavers and Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole over control of plainclothes operatives of the Atlanta police department probably will be settled at the next meeting of the police committee of city council it was learned Friday following a conference between Mayor I. N. Ragdale and Beavers.

Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward, one of the members of the police board, who contends that all view squad members should be under direction of Poole, declared Friday night that there is little likelihood that the committee will make any move or take any action on the clash of authority between the police officials prior to the next regular meeting of that body, September 11.

Following the conference between Mayor Ragdale and Chief Beavers Mr. Ragdale insisted that Beavers and Poole bury their differences and "work together for the good of the department and the city of Atlanta."

There were rumors of a general and sweeping shake-up of the entire department Friday night, but officials said there is little likelihood of such a move before the council police committee takes action on the fact that there are two plainclothes squads at headquarters, one being operated under direction and control of Poole, while the other is amenable solely to Beavers.

After the conference with Beavers the mayor's only statement was: "I urged the chief to patch up any differences that might exist in his department and get down to work for the good of Atlanta. The public knows that my policy always has been to support of the heads of departments."

Chief Beavers would only say: "I have full authority to put any man in plainclothes if I think it is necessary. The records of the department speak for themselves on the results I have secured."

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

FLIP BECOMES AN OUTCAST.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Watch your step when tempting fate! Mere repentance is too late.
—Old Mother Nature.

Poor Flip! Never was there an unhappier little dog than Flip. His whole world had collapsed about him. No one would have anything to do with him. He wasn't allowed near the house. Farmer Brown's Boy had made a bed for him under the tool-house and there he was obliged to stay. And it was all because he had met Jimmy Skunk and had been impudent.

Just what had happened Flip didn't know yet. He had been rushing at Jimmy Skunk, intending to shake him to death, and then all in a second he had been rolling over and over on the ground, choking and strangling, with away. He tried to get away from it, but he couldn't. Wherever he went the smell went with him. He crept off in a corner by himself and there he lay, as miserable a dog as ever lived. At last he heard Farmer

There Farmer Brown's Boy threw things out into the water for Flip to swim after. Brown's Boy coming into the barnyard. He was whistling. The whistle stopped abruptly. There was an exclamation. Flip got up from his corner and with head hanging, crept toward his master.

Farmer Brown's Boy took one look at Flip. "So!" he exclaimed. "You were the cause of this! Well, I suppose you had to learn. Hereafter, you probably will treat Jimmy Skunk with the respect he deserves. Meanwhile you've got to keep away from the house. Come here!"

Farmer Brown's Boy turned toward the Long Lane. Flip hesitated. Farmer Brown's Boy looked back and whistled for him. Flip was so delighted to be wanted that he went bounding forward. He did not know what to make of it when his master would not allow him to come near. Finally, he understood that he was to follow, but not too close. Across the Green Meadows, down to the Smiling Pool, they went. There Farmer Brown's Boy threw things into the water for Flip to swim after and bring back some morsel. Then he was taken back home and chained under the toolhouse in a comfortable bed. There every day his food was brought him. Farmer Brown's Boy used to come to talk to him. Bowser would come to visit him. Gradually that unpleasant odor grew less and less. Flip didn't notice it at all himself, but it was many days be-

THE GUMPS—THERE'S A WEE WIFE AWAITIN'!!

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS

Douglas Doring, a young English peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the pretext of being a spy. He is in love with a woman who is in love with him and whose advances he smothered. In revenge she tries to get him killed by a policeman during a night club raid.

Doring is a famous aviator but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her worry, he has been using an assumed name—Douglas Harris. It is under this name that he is tried and convicted.

While the convicts are at work in a quarry, Douglas finds a tobacco tin containing a mysterious unsigned note, telling him he will be released the next day by a friend named "D." He follows directions and escapes.

At this exact moment the governor of the prison arrives at the gates with a distinguished visitor. The governor directs the pursuit of Douglas, predicting confidently that the fugitive will be caught within five minutes. He proves to be wrong.

Inside the van Douglas is dressed in new clothes, then finds himself being dropped into a moving touring car. The chauffeur tells him they are going to the Genter hotel—about next door to the prison, as the place where he is least likely to be caught—and also informs him his new name is Douglas Sefton.

To his amazement Douglas greets him on the porch of the hotel. She has recognized him as his wife, and she takes him to "their" suite of rooms. Douglas collapses from shock and strain.

INSTALLMENT VI

CECILY GETS A SHOCK.

"I think I'd better get back—there'll be an awful row about this, you know. I ought to be doing my work in the quarry," said Doring.

"Yes, yes. But don't go back just this minute," urged Cecil. "Have a nice cup of tea, first—it will strengthen you."

"Yes, it will strengthen me," he repeated, and obediently sat back in the chair. "But there'll be an awful row about this. A—simply awful—row."

He began to cry like a weak, tired child. Behind his back Cecil emptied the contents of a phial into the teacup. She had been warned she might have to deal with some such nervous collapse, and handled it competently.

In the midst of his sobbing she asked sharply, "Do you take one lump or two?"

"Two, please," he answered promptly. "I say I'm afraid you must have come to the conclusion that I'm drunk. I know I've made a most frightful point of myself and I don't know how to apologize. The fact is, I've been flying for—I forget how many hours—I haven't been flying at all."

"We'll talk about it afterwards, please," she cut in. "Just drink this now and you'll feel ever so much better."

"Yes," he agreed and this time spoke his other thought aloud. "We'll talk about everything—about my nerves. Can I come back to you?"

"I'm afraid not, my dear. I shall have finished my work here by midnight and I shall leave in the small hours."

That meant he would be busy with important officials and would have no time for her. Cecil knew nothing of her father's work except that it was to do with the government.

Ever since her mother's death, "daddy's work" had been a factor in their lives that would break up their holidays and interrupt their happy times together.

"If you're tired of the moor, why not run on to Torquay?"

"No. I'm fed up with this kind of thing. I'd rather go home. And, I say, daddy, I'm tired of laughing around. I want a job of some kind."

"We'll talk about that later. You'll go home, then. I shall turn up tomorrow after lunch."

"I say, Cecil, look here. I've got a pretty good character with you for not interfering, haven't I? You'll admit I've never done the heavy father."

"Dear—what is it all about?"

"Just this. Don't drive back to town. Leave your car in the garage and I'll send a good man to drive it home. Hire the hotel car to the station—and go home by train—keep Marthe with you in the railway carriage."

"But daddy, whatever do you?"

"I can't tell you on the telephone. Leave it at this Cecil. It's a most urgent request. Let me be an old fuss-box for once. Remember it's the first time I've made myself this kind of a nuisance. Will you do it, dear child?"

"Of course, I will," she answered, and a moment later cut off.

He had some reason, she supposed, but it was not worth puzzling over. The car or train—it did not matter. Nothing in the world mattered when your heart was broken.

Bob Jones Sees Von Elm as Main Threat In Amateur Tourney

'GREAT FIELD,' SAYS CHAMP; GOLFERS READY

Leading Amateurs Give Views on Coming Battle at Pebble Beach.

By a Staff Correspondent.

(Written Exclusively for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.) (Copyright, 1929, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.) Pebble Beach, Cal., August 30.—Everything is all set for the national amateur golf championship contest which starts here next Monday and continues through Saturday.

The leading contestants have different views regarding the probable winner. Here is what they think of each other's chances:

BOBBY JONES. Bobby Jones, the world's greatest golfer, who starts in defense of his national amateur crown here Monday, says:

"George Von Elm, George Volght and Jess Sweetser—three of the strongest entrants in the championship, would be dangerous challengers in any golf competition."

"Von Elm is playing his best golf. His mashie niblick is functioning perfectly and the same putter that defeated me in the 1926 amateur championship appears more deadly than ever."

"Pebble Beach is a great course for Von Elm, who gets plenty of distance off the tee. His approaching won the amateur three years ago and if his preliminary work is any indication of the pace he will set during the match play starting next week, he will be the hardest man in the tournament to beat."

"Jess Sweetser appears ready to play brilliant golf. After winning the national amateur in 1922, and the British amateur two years later, Jess suffered a physical breakdown and was out of golf for the next two years. Today, Sweetser is the picture of health and stands a great chance of turning back even this brilliant field."

"George Volght has taken kindly to California golf. Volght appears to know much about the Pebble Beach layout and like Chick Evans, Cyril Tolley and others, will make few mistakes in the ensuing competition. I believe the field is the most brilliant amateur aggregation I have ever faced and if I am successful in defending the championship—the event will be my greatest achievement."

GEORGE VON ELM. Bobby Jones will have to make a lot of mistakes to lose the amateur championship, according to George Von Elm. He says:

"Jones is playing better than par golf daily. His putting, especially his short attempts, is unsatisfactory, but he will get better as the play continues."

"Jones is at home on any golf course and Pebble Beach holds no terrors for him. Bobby invariably hooks and if he can continue to control his pulled shots, he will play from the inside during every match."

"Holes 17 and 18 were made for Jones. The seventeenth is a stiff one-shotter into the ocean tee that finds Jones at his best. A hooked ball that carries 200 yards will give the player a 100-yard shot to the 625-yard dog leg hole and Bobby should birdie the hole every time out, which is more than the rest of us can expect to do."

Board of Strategy Behind Cub Drive

These fellows are the big men behind the guns of the league-leading Chicago Cubs, at present conceded the National league pennant. The photo shows from left to right, Joe Burk, coach; Manager Joe McCarthy, and Grover

Lanx, coach. They form the Chicago team's board of strategy and from the present position of their charges they know quite a bit about the old national pastime. (Associated Press photo.)

S. E. Umps Go Texas Loop Jobs

Montgomery, Ala., August 30.—(AP)—Cliff Green, president of the Southeastern league today announced the transfer of Umpires F. M. Kroh and M. M. Dominique to the Texas league. Kroh will join the staff of the Texas circuit at the close of the current Southeastern season.

William Stepp Goes to Giants

Columbus, Miss., August 30.—(AP)—William Stepp, infielder of Columbus, who reported to the New York Nationals at the San Antonio spring training camp to be laid off to recover from injuries, left today for New York to finish the season and sign a contract for next year.

Sport's Big Month.

September opens with the amateur golf championship, and a week later it brings on the tennis championship of the United States. September means the homestretch for baseball and football's start. It means the climax of the polo season and it is one of racing's most active periods. It also means the most decisive heavyweight scramble of the year between Loughran and Sharkey, who will settle at least part of the argument that Tunney started by throwing his boxing gloves into the nearest manhole.

September's big league baseball excitement is now about as lively as guessing the name of the next month. The main interest left is the home run race and the batting championship of the two leagues. The home run scramble among Babe Ruth, Hack Wilson, Chuck Klein and others will be something to watch, if not to get highly excited about. Yet as long as the Babe is in the picture there is always a story attached worth following.

The feature of the golf championship at Pebble Beach will be Bobby Jones' bid for his fifth amateur title and a new American record. It will also include the desperate effort of some veteran or some youthful star to haul him down in one of the two eighteen-hole matches to be played on Wednesday. Once turned loose into the thirty-six-hole, all-day affairs, he is as easy to catch as a coyote. It can be done, but only Von Elm has done it since 1923.

The feature of the tennis championship a week later will be Tilden's final bid against younger years. The man who ruled tennis from 1920 through 1926 has his chance with the French away, but he has a flock of younger players to stop on his way through who have been getting the needed experience to show more competitive stuff.

Tilden is naturally extremely keen about closing out his championship career with another crown on top of his head. He may play in other championships, but this will be his big chance and probably his last one. His main problem will be to last out a hard week's play. Among those who must be considered are George Lott, the best of the younger stars; Van Ryn, Mercer, Allison, Mangin, Bell, Coen, Hunter, Hennessy, Shields, Austin, and possibly two or three others from the younger line-up. Tilden and Hunter will represent the old guard in its final stand against the youthful tide. With the French absent, this should be one of the most interesting championships held since Big Bill and Little Bill were in their prime.

It will be one of the feature spots of sport's big month.

Chick Meehan Expects Strong Line at N. Y. U.

By Walter Trumbull.

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.) New York, August 30.—Chick Meehan, football coach of New York university, tells me that he expects to have another good line. That means that he is going to have another fine team.

"If the line is strong," says Meehan, "whether we score many points or not, no opposing team is going to score many points on us."

The boys who carry the ball are the ones who get the applause, but they can't run far unless the linemen do their work. I remember seeing Red Grange play against a Nebraska team which had on it Weir and another great tackle. Grange hardly moved out of his tracks all afternoon.

"Catch them back of the line of scrimmage," says Fielding Yost, "and you can tie them with a woolen string."

Even in the forward passing game the line must do its part. The start of a good defense against a pass is to hurry the passer. In the overhead game there must be a man who catches the ball and a man who throws it. But let the center make had passes to the man who hurls the pigskin and see where you land.

SAME IN KICKING. It is the same in kicking. Let the opposing line through and it is dollars to doughnuts that the result is a blocked punt.

With a team which plays the hidden ball type of attack, the line is all important. The linemen must give the backs the necessary time to do their stuff.

"You can't take the little rabbit out of the hat," said Percy Haughton, "when someone is joggling your elbow."

It is the line that makes the openings and it is the line, closest to the

BRITISH WIN IN MIXED PLAY AT BROOKLINE

Lott and Nuthall To Play Covell and Bunny Austin for Title.

By William R. King.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Brookline, Mass., August 30. (AP)—The British tennis invaders made a great showing in the national doubles championship tournament here today and when the volleying was over America had but a quarter interest in the mixed team's final match.

Play reached the last bracket when Miss Betty Nuthall, of England, and George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, the top seeded foreign team, and Mrs. B. C. Covell and Henry W. "Bunny" Austin, both of England, succeeded in their semi-finals match.

The international pair defeated an English team comprising Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. S. Oliff, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1, and Mrs. Covell and Austin became finalists by vanquishing Mrs. D. C. Shepherd-Barron, of England, and Norman Farquharson, South African Davis cup player, 6-2, 6-2.

These finalists will clash tomorrow

'Lines by Fincher' Again To Appear In Constitution

William Fincher, The Bill Himself, of Tech flats, again will write his terse, pithy comment on Georgia Tech football games for The Atlanta Constitution this fall.

This is just to remind you that Bill has been signed again to write his "Lines by Fincher," one of the best features The Constitution ever gave its sports section readers.

Bill wastes no words; he writes like he talks, which is to the point. Bill's "copy" needs no editing. When Bill gets through saying something it STAYS SAID.

Other experts who will write frequent expert articles for The Constitution sports section this fall are H. J. Stegman, of the University of Georgia, and four famous coaches—Dan McGugin, of Vanderbilt; Howard Jones, of U. S. C.; Bill Roper, of Princeton, and Bob Zuppke, of Illinois. The last named quartet cover for The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance gridiron gossip in their own sections, and, after the season, select the All-American football team.

The Constitution is proud of its team of coach-writers. If there be not the last word on football, then eleven men on a team is illegal.

Outlook for Chemicals.

The current volume of business in the chemical manufacturing industry appears to be on a materially higher plane than in 1928.

The sharp upward trend which has taken place in the volume of production has been marked by the fact that the chemical industry has been called an insatiable consumer demand. Commodities such as manufactured goods and raw materials have been on a decrease and while they are somewhat higher than a year ago, they are lower than at the beginning of 1929.

Operations in the vegetable oil industry have shown a marked increase over those reported for the first half of last year. All oils prominent in domestic industry gained during the period, but the most notable was the production and consumption. Linseed oil, however, showed a falling off of more than 5 per cent in the volume and a 3 per cent decrease in consumption.

Foreign trade in chemicals and extending distribution. Official figures of chemicals exported for the first six months of 1929 against 1928, 488,863, in comparison with $69,600, 268 for the first six months of 1928.

Industrial chemicals exported had a value of $1,000,000, against $1,000,000 for the first six months of 1928. The volume of exports is even more impressive—$1,000,000 against $1,000,000 for the first six months of 1928.

Bull Market, Uninterrupted.

Continues Strong in Face of Continued Increase in Bond Sales. Stocks Bid to New Levels and Averages Set Record Highs.

New York, August 30.—Ignoring the further increase in bond sales and pleased over further buying of bankers' acceptances by the federal reserve, traders in the stock market were again leaders in the early trading. International Harvester was one of the features opening on 18-1/2, and the market advanced 1-1/2 points higher at 134 7/8 and advanced to 130 1/2 before settling was made.

The weekly increase of $45,000,000 in holdings of bankers' acceptances by the federal reserve banks brought the increase in this holding, hence the end of July to August 30, 1929, was $1,000,000. Since the federal reserve banks selling bankers' acceptances to the federal reserve banks again used such credits to reduce their holdings from the federal reserve, the total borrowings of member banks from the federal reserve banks are now $1,000,000,000 against $1,038,000,000 a year ago.

The figures were well above $1,000,000,000. The further weekly increase of $182,000,000 for the week makes the increase in two weeks $364,000,000. The increase over a year ago is $1,082,000,000 of which $1,000,000,000 is made up of "others," meaning corporations other than the federal reserve banks. Others' foot up $3,408,000,000 or 53 per cent of the total $6,400,000,000 which is the new high of the total of $6,216,000,000 outstanding in bankers' call loans make up $5,472,000,000.

Under normal conditions 30 per cent of the stock market's requirements are financed with time money. Under normal conditions, however, the call money market is the market for the call money market, and hence act together in stabilizing the call money market, and hence act together in stabilizing the call money market.

One of the first investment trusts to list its shares on the New York stock exchange makes a public statement of its earnings for the year ending January 1 to August 24. The figures are remarkable, $5,455,000, or $8.38 a share for the class A stock and $10.38 a share for the class B stock. The total profits were $7,735,000.

been due to competitive buying by the call money market. Beyond question, the call money market is the market for the call money market, and hence act together in stabilizing the call money market.

So far no railroad has followed the example of the United States Steel corporation in using large current and accumulated earnings to pay off outstanding bonds. So far the railroad industry has borrowed but never repaid except through the sale or exchange of new bonds.
